The Chilli Bean Cup

The Chilli Bean Cup was setup by Brian Dunkley and Paul Ward (dec.) 19 years ago in the ACT as a reward for the many matches they played against each other. It has it's own unique trophy holder base that has stood the test of time (just).

It has grown into an "exclusive" group, with players of similar standards being inducted at the annual Aussie Masters AGM, provided they meet strict player conditions e.g. amount of drinking, and standard of play.

If you are the trophy holder, and another member of the groups is playing you, you have to place the trophy at the front of the court. The winner gets to take it home until the next championship match.

It has been know to been consumed on the odd occasion when desperate for a solid feed.

The current can has a 2007 year of manufacture, so we hope it doesn't get hit too hard by the ball, or else if could be a really messy situation on court.

At this year's Aussies, it displayed its power with a solid Chilli Bean Cup Team Moral Booster Performance, much to the dislike of Richard Weir from Darwin

Liver and Cheese

Three handsome male dogs are walking down the street when they see a beautiful, enticing, female Poodle.

The three male dogs fall all over themselves in an effort to be the one to reach her first, but end up arriving in front of her at the same time.

The males are speechless before her beauty, slobbering on themselves and hoping for just a glance from her in return.

Aware of her charms and her obvious effect on the three suitors, she decides to be kind and tells them that the first one who can use the words liver and cheese together in an imaginative, intelligent sentence can go out with her.

The sturdy, muscular black Lab speaks up quickly and says, "I love liver and cheese!"

"Oh, how childish," says the Poodle, "that shows no imagination or intelligence whatsoever."

She turns to the tall, shiny Golden Retriever and says, "How well can you do?"

"Um. I HATE liver and cheese." blurts the Golden Retriever.

"My, my," says the Poodle, "I guess it's hopeless. That's just as dumb as the Lab's sentence."

She then turns to the last of the three dogs and says, "How about you?"

The last of the three is a handsome exiled Cuban dog.

He gives her a big smile, a sly wink, turns to the Golden Retriever and the Lab and says in broken English...

"Liver alone. Cheese mine."

Circus Act

Two pals, one of which was on the dole, were discussing various ways of making money.

The one on the dole said to the other, "I've only got one thing going for me and you know what that is, don't you." The other lad thought for a moment and then said, "Okay, I've got it, there's the circus coming to town on Saturday and with your talent of making love to fifty ladies in one night should be something of a novel for them." "Right" said the other lad, "I'll give it a try."

Saturday came and the lad was very nervous, and was going to back out of the deal, but his mate assured him that all would be ok, so off he went to see the Ringmaster.

The Ringmaster would not believe his story at first until his mate backed him up. "Okay", he said "As it happens I am short of a star turn so if you think you can do it, you're on, be here for 7pm sharp tomorrow night and we will see."

The time and day came and he arrived at the circus. The Ringmaster saw him and said "Right my lad, we have lined up your fifty ladies, and after the introduction, do your stuff."

After the introduction he started making love to the ladies. One, two, three, four, five, ten, fifteen, by the eighteenth one he was completely exhausted.

The Ringmaster came to him. "GET OUT, you are a complete washout" he said.

"What happened to all that talk about fifty ladies?"

"I don't understand myself boss" he said "I was alright at rehearsals this afternoon"!!!
